DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed 04/14/2005 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each cited foreign patent document; each non-patent literature publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 7-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gray (US 4,245,789).

In regard to claims 7-12, Gray teaches a fuel injector with a solenoid assembly (14), an armature (73) acted upon by a spring (77) in the closing direction, a valve needle (72) that is connected to the armature (73) by force locking where a valve closure member (Figure 1) is formed which forms a sealing seat with a valve needle surface (Figure 1) where the armature stop face (73s) strikes against a stop face (63s) of an inner pole (63) where the surface structure of the armature stop face (73s) and the stop face of the inner pole (63s) have raised and recessed dome shaped areas (Figure

2) at a height difference of 0.4 μm to 0.8 μm for the inner pole stop face (63s) and 0.2 μm to 0.3 μm for the armature stop face (73s). However, Gray fails to teach an armature stop face (73s) being coated with a plurality of chromium layers where the height difference between the raised and recessed dome shaped areas are in a height difference between 5 μm to 10 μm . It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time of the present invention to modify the armature stop face of Gray to be made with a chromium coating to provide for a high resistant coating with a multiple layer thickness of raised and recessed dome shaped areas and a height difference between 5 μm and 10 μm so as to ensure that the removal of the raised areas as a result of operational wear is less than the height difference between the raised and recessed areas to prevent an increase in the percentage of true contact area between the stop face surfaces (63s and 73s).

Conclusion

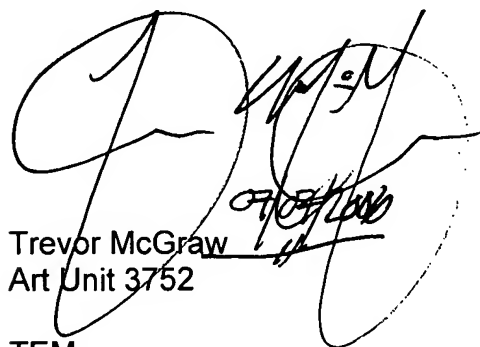

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Maier et al. (US 6,824,084), Sumida et al. (US 6,024,302).
